What are you worried about? Sarah has got behind with the rent and is going to be evicted. Sarah and Matt have recently separated. Matt can be verbally aggressive and I have heard him shouting through the walls and even since they have separated he has presented the home and I have heard him making threats to remove Joe from her care the last time was 3 days ago. I have previously seen bruising on Sarah and she has advised this has been caused by falling down the stairs however I am unsure this is true. Joe has told me that he has heard his mum and dad arguing. Sarah is very low in mood and will cry all day and is neglecting her own care needs and this is impacting on her meeting Joe's such as him having dirty clothes.

What is going well for this family and what resources/ services are already in place? Sarah has support from her mum. I try to help where possible but have my own 3 children so the support I can provide is limited. Joe enjoys school and I am aware Sarah has discussed her issues with the school.

What needs to change to make things better/ safer for this child/ren? Sarah needs support for her mental health. Sarah needs support at home and with tasks in the home such as washing clothes and cooking as she is finding this difficult at the moment. Matt needs to stop coming to the home to stop the arguments especially as Joe is hearing these.

Are there any safety issues/ hazards to be aware of? No

Would you like an email confirmation that your request for support has been received?: No
